From 15 to 20 September 2025, UN-Nutrition, the Healthy Diets from Sustainable Food Systems (HDSFS) Coalition, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Social Development and Fight Against Hunger of Brazil, in collaboration with the Scaling Up Nutrition (SUN) Movement, brought together 10 nutrition policy professionals from 10 countries for a unique study visit to Brazil. The goal was to create an immersive learning opportunity where participants explored Brazil's innovative nutrition programs while sharing their successes and challenges.

Participants engaged in meetings with key ministerial representatives across a broad range of sectors, participated in field visits in Brasília, and finally attended the 2nd School Meals Coalition (SMC) Global Summit in Fortaleza on 18 and 19 September

At the end of the stay, a learning workshop was held to share key takeaways, and identify areas of interest for further exploration. The workshop served to consolidate the insights gained during the week-long study visit, and participants discussed how to apply these learnings within their specific country contexts. This peer to peer exchange was made possible with financial support from Irish Aid.

As a follow-up to the study visit, the HDSFS Coalition and UN-Nutrition Secretariat are organizing a workshop to share key take aways and insights with a broad set of partners, including all member countries and entity partners of the HDSFS Coalition. This will help amplify learnings from the Brazil study visit and engage the wider network in discussion and reflection on how to translate this experience in different contexts.
