

Food and Agriculture
Organization of the United Nations

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF ARTISANAL FISHERIES
AND AQUACULTURE
2022

Side Event COP 27

Climate-smart gender-equitable initiatives in small-scale aquatic food systems for sustainable healthy diets

12 November, 13.00-14.00
Food and Agriculture Pavilion

© FAO/GMB Akash

Speakers

Moderator

Stineke Oenema, Executive Secretary, UN Nutrition

Keynote

Shakuntala Thilsted, Global Lead for Nutrition and Public Health, WorldFish

Panel Discussion

Jones Spartegus, Member of WFFP from India

Bibi Giyose, Senior Nutrition Officer for Policy and Programmes AUDA-NEPAD and FAO

Stig Ingemar Traavik, Director for the Department for Climate and Environment, Norway

This side event builds on the UN Nutrition report on The Role of Aquatic Foods in Sustainable Healthy Diets (SHD) which highlighted that SHD must include diverse aquatic foods, inclusive policy frameworks, and access to innovative climate-smart technologies for small-scale aquatic food producers to ensure better production, better nutrition, better livelihoods and better environment.

Watch the livestream

With support from

